The readings for the 14th Sunday in Ordinary Time show God's kindness and mercy. They remind us that Jesus brings peace and calls us to trust in him.

- Humility of Christ: Jesus comes as a humble king, not with power and force, but with gentleness. He invites people to follow him, not through strength, but through trust and love.
- God Gives Peace: The readings speak of a king who brings peace to all people. Jesus offers rest to those who are tired and struggling.
- Trust in God: Jesus says that God reveals truth to those who are humble and open. This shows that faith is not about knowing everything, but about trusting God.
- Life Through the Spirit: Those who follow the Spirit will have real life. The readings remind us to leave behind sin and live in God's way.
- God Helps the Weak: The psalm tells us that God lifts up those who fall. Jesus also calls those who are burdened to come to him for rest.
- Jesus' Gentle Way: Jesus does not make life harder for people. He offers a way that brings peace and rest to the soul.

The readings teach about Jesus' kindness and the peace he brings. They remind us to trust him, follow his way, and find rest in him.

THE THOUGHT OF ST. BENEDICT IS THE LIFE BLOOD OF EUROPE

Born in the central Italian mountain town of Norcia (Nursia) around AD 480, St. Benedict became one of the most important catalysts for the creation of a new European culture after the fall of the Roman Empire in the West (traditionally dated to AD 476). The system of monastic life he developed and nourished spread centers of prayer and hospitality throughout the continent. Benedictine monasteries were not only spiritual and cultural centers, but also a source of sustenance and relief for pilgrims and the poor.

BRIGHT STAR IN A DARK CENTURY

St. Gregory the Great – who wrote the only ancient biography of St. Benedict that we have – called St. Benedict “a bright light” in an age marked by the most serious crisis. From his youth, Benedict’s life was marked by prayer. His wealthy parents send him to Rome to provide him with adequate training. There, however, Benedict found young people shaken, ruined by the ways of vice. So, he left Rome for a place called Enfide (modern-day Affile in central Italy), and then lived as a hermit for three years in a cave at Subiaco, which would become the heart of the Benedictine monastery Sacro Speco. This period of solitude preceded another crucial milestone on Benedict’s journey: his arrival at Monte Cassino. There, among the ruins of an ancient pagan acropolis, St. Benedict and some of his disciples built their first abbey.

THE RULE

Benedict composed his Rule around AD 530. It is essentially a manual, a code for monastic life. Written in a familiar style, Benedict throughout the prologue and 73 chapters of the Rule exhorts his monks to reach out with “the ear of the heart” to “never despair of the mercy of God”: “Listen carefully, my child, to your master’s precepts, and incline the ear of your heart (Prov. 4:20). Receive willingly and carry out effectively your loving father’s advice, that by the labor of obedience you may return to Him from whom you had departed by the sloth of disobedience.”

ORA ET LABORA – PRAY AND WORK

“Idleness,” writes St. Benedict in the Rule, “is an enemy of the soul; That is why the brothers have to devote themselves to manual work, in some hours, in others, to reading books containing the word of God.” Prayer and work are not in opposition, but establish a symbiotic relationship. Without prayer, it is not possible to encounter God. The monastic life, however, defined by Benedict as “a school of the service of the Lord,” cannot be without concrete commitment. Work is an extension of prayer. “The Lord,” St. Benedict reminds us, “expects us daily to respond with facts to the doctrines of his holy teachings.”

This weekend, in celebrating the U.S.A. 250th birthday, we also give thanks for the gift of life from conception to natural death & human dignity and pray for expectant parents, those with pregnancy difficulties & post abortion healing. These events respect life:

- 1) 40/365 Days For Life, prayers,
- 2) Sidewalk Advocates Training (TBA)
- 3) Hawaii State Laws, prayers,
- 4) Walking With Moms In Need, programs, prayers,
- 5) End to human trafficking, prayers,
- 6) Elderly, end to assisted suicide, prayers.
